DMS WIRELESS announces new distributor for Colombia

DMS WIRELESS is proud to announce it's association with COLWAVE for international distribution of its quality wireless broadband products.

COLWAVE is located in Medellin, Colombia at Calle 77AC 80-40 Int 321 Robledo . COLWAVE is a systems integrator providing technological solutions and services for wireless broadband communication systems to government, private and industrial clients, with primary focus on data and voice networks. The technical firm is bi-lingual which covers Colombia and other Latin American countries. Juan Diego Velez, Gerente General, announces “DMS WIRELESS is perfect compliment to our current products for complete system integration and successful network installations”. “We are pleased of our association with DMS WIRELESS, a company known for quality antennas and excellent customer service.”

Tim Heinrichs, CEO, DMS WIRELESS, states: “We welcome and look forward to working with COLWAVE in Latin America to enhance their current client base, and to develop their new projects for many years to come. The supply of quality antennas and installation hardware will create beneficial growth for their wireless broadband networks and allows DMS WIRELESS to extend their distribution base.” “A winning combination for mutual business”.
